

Death cleanup service starting at $1,500*

What most people don't realize about a loved one dying is there may be an unsettling mess and odor left behind. This falls on the homeowner or family to clean. We remove all physical evidence and potential biohazards to spare you further trauma. Each situation is different and the amount of time and equipment will vary. A basic cleanup may only take 3-4 hours and cost our lowest flat fee of $1,500. If this sounds expensive, consider our price is $1,000 less than the competition and in all likelihood will be covered by homeowners insurance.

In more complex situations, like a crime scene or undiscovered death, we are forced to clean and remediate odors until we get things every trace. This may require removing subfloor, using powerful machines and other techniques. We make every effort to communicate what we are doing and why, to insure your bill is fair. Unfortunately the industry standard is to take advantage of people when they are vulnerable.
